

A CATALOGUE OF BOOKS,

Printed for EDWARD JOHNSON,

( Successor to the late Mr. B. Dod )

At No. 12, AVE-MARY-LANE, LUDGATE-STREET,

1. ARITHMETIC Tables, containing, numeration, pence, shillings, multiplication and practice, comprised and neatly engraved on a card. Price 3d.

2. Tables of weight and measure; containing troy, avoirdupoise, apothecary's, hay and wool weights; wine, ale, beer, coals, long, land, cloth, dry, and solid measures, with the table of time, comprised and neatly engraved on a card. Price 3d.

* * The above two tables may be had on one card. Price 6d.

3. Interest table, for finding the interest of any sum of money, at any rate per cent. for any number of months, weeks, or days; also shewing what any estate or income, from £1 to £40,000 per annum, is per month, week, or day: likewise the amount of any rent, annuity, salary, or servant's wages, for any number of months, weeks, or days, with a table, shewing the number of days from any day in one month, to the same day in any other month throughout the year, with an explanation to each, neatly engraved on a card. Price 6d.

4. A new and correct edition, which is the fifteenth, price 2s. neatly bound, The Tutor's Assistant, being a compendium of Arithmetic and a complete Question Book, in 5 parts.

* * So progressively rapid has been the sale of this book, that every subsequent edition has gone off in less time than the former, and with such acceleration, that it is not twelve months since the publication of the last and larger edition than the preceeding one. An irrefragable proof of its usefulness and of the approbation of the schoolmasters in consequence.

These Four by F. Walkingame.

5. Sermons; sixteen, chiefly on practical subjects, preached at the Royal Chapel, St. James's: And eight on the Lord's Prayer. By the late Rev. Edward Littleton, L L. D. Fellow of Eaton College, Vicar of Mapledenham, Oxon, and Chaplain in ordinary to his Majesty. The third edition, very beautifully printed in one volume twelves. To this edition is prefixed an account of the Author, with some copies of verses written by him while a student at Cambridge. Price 3s.—N. B. There are a few of the second edition of these Sermons, printed on a large character in two volumes octavo.

6. Bagatelles; or Poetical Trifles: comprehending, among many other curious petit pieces, by the late Rev. Mr. Mills, the Fragment, or Allen and Ella; which, unknown to the author, appeared some years since, under the title of Collin and Lucy. To which is added, A Journey to, and a Description of, the Paraclete, near the city of Troyes in Champagne, where Abelard and Eloisa were buried: the second edition, Price 2s. sewed.

A

7. An

BOOKS printed for EDWARD JOHNSON.

7. An introduction to Spelling and Reading English: being the most plain and easy method of teaching children to read. Containing
 1. Tables of monosyllables, adapted to the capacities of the youngest children; leading them on gradually from the easiest to the more difficult, and so to the hardest words; 2. Tables of dissyllables, after the same manner: and, 3. Tables of trissyllables, with their proper divisions and accent. To which are added, one hundred and sixty lessons, in words of one, two, and three syllables; ranged in proper order, by way of praxis on the several tables. And a short Catechetical Discourse, explaining the rules for spelling, pointing, &c. recommended by many schoolmasters, under their hands, as the most practical performance of this kind: the twenty-eighth edition. To which is added, A Treatise on the Arts of Writing and Arithmetic, with a Specimen of the Hands now in Use; engraved by Mr. Bickham, senior: also six fables adorned with sculptures. By William Markham, Schoolmaster.—N. B. Such has been the approbation of this spelling-book, that upwards of 250,000 have been printed and sold of the genuine editions; and there have been several surreptitious editions besides.

8. Sixty amusing and instructive Fables, in French and English, divided into sections, and the two languages answering almost verbatim, for the greater conveniency of learners; designed principally for schools; adorned with 60 cuts; the fourth edition, corrected and improved. Price 1s. 6d. bound.

9. Les Aventures de Telemaque, Fils d'Ulysse, par Francois de Salignac de la Mothe Fenelon, Precepteur des Enfants de France, & depuis Archeveque de Cambrai, &c. nouvelle edition, revue & corrigee avec soin; enrichie des imitations des anciens, de la vie de l'auteur & d'un petit dictionnaire mythologique & géographique; avec des figures; par D. Durand, Min. de la Savoye, & Membre de la S. R. beautifully printed in one volume in twelves, and may (very justly) be said to be the best edition ever printed of the work. Price 3s. bound.

10. Nouvelle Methode pour apprendre facilement les Langues Francoise a Angloise, par Mr. Rogissart; nouvelle edition, corrigee & augmentee d'un Essai sur la Prosodie Francoise, par D. Durand, Min. de la Savoye, & Membre de la S. R. beautiful y printed in one volume in twelves, on a fine Dutch paper. Price 2s. bound.—N. B. For the greater exactness of this edition, an English gentleman had the care of the English.

11. The Lady's Preceptor; or a Letter to a young Lady of Distinction, upon Politeness and an amiable and prudent Conduct of Life, under a great Variety of the Relations, and of those Circumstances of it, which render Instruction of most Importance to their Happiness; taken from the French of the Abbe D'Ancourt; and adapted to the religion, customs, and manners, of the English nation; by a Gentleman of Cambridge (dedicated to the Princess of Brunswick): The sixth edition; elegantly printed at Birmingham, with the apparatus and types of Mr. Baskerville. Price 1s.

* * Perhaps there is not to be found in any other tract, of the same size, so great a variety of advices conducive to the felicity of mankind, as are comprehended in the above little pamphlet; its tendency being being to make prudent wives and mothers, and good mistresses, &c. on which the happiness both of families and society principally depends; and being concise, is much more likely to be read, and probably therefore proportionably useful, than treatises which are more diffuse and sermonizing: in short, it may be said to contain the essence of all the books which have been written on the subjects it treats of, and therefore is a convenient remembrance to those who have read them. It is used in boarding-schools, both as preceptive and as exercises to be turned into French.

BOOKS printed for EDWARD JOHNSON.

12. The Cambridge Phædrus; being a neat and correct edition of Phædri Augusti Liberti Fabularum Æsopiarum Libri Quinque; or a correct Latin edition of the Fables of Phædrus; with a new literal English translation, and a large Parsing index; by a gentleman of the University of Cambridge: second edition, Price 1s. 6d. bound.

* * This work is divided into three parts.---The first contains the original text, printed after the best editions; and those of bishop Hare and Dr. Bentley are particularly regarded. In the second is the translation, done in the manner of the construction to Lilly's Grammar; wherein the ellipses in the text are supplied, for the information and ease of the learner. The parsing index makes the third part; in which every word used in this author may be found, without the assistance or use of a dictionary; and each word (where necessary) is so accented, that young beginners may know the true pronunciation. The whole intended to be an easy guide to youth of the meanest capacities to learn their lessons with pleasure and exactness; and also a means of rendering the fatigue and trouble of the teacher more light and agreeable.---N. B. The following character of it was given by the author of the monthly review. "This edition of Phædrus appears to be better adapted than any of those hitherto published, to answer the end of instructing young beginners in the knowledge of the Latin tongue."

13. The History of the World, translated from the Latin of Justin; with some necessary remarks by way of notes; and a prefatory discourse, concerning the advantages that ought chiefly to be had in view, in reading this or any ancient historian. To this new translation is subjoined, an exact Chronological Table of the Affairs of the World, from the creation to the birth of Christ; the Whole very useful for all readers of history, beginners more especially: by G. Turnbull, L. L. D. the second edition, Price 3s.

14. Bishop Williams's Exposition of the Church Catechism, with proofs from scripture, in five parts, and twelve sections; wherein a plain account is given of, 1. The Christian Covenant; 2. Faith; 3. Obedience; 4. Prayer; 5. The Sacraments: a new edition, being the twenty-sixth, Price 4d. stitched, or 6d. bound.

15. The Family magazine, in two parts. Part I. containing useful directions in all the branches of house-keeping and cookery; particularly shewing how to buy in the best of all sorts of provisions, as poultry ware, butcher's meat, fish, fruit, &c. with several hundred receipts in cookery, pastry, pickling, confectionary, distilling, and for destroying bugs and other vermin; with many more of excellent use, to frugal and

BOOKS printed for EDWARD JOHNSON.

7. An introduction to Spelling and Reading English: being the most plain and easy method of teaching children to read. Containing
 1. Tables of monosyllables, adapted to the capacities of the youngest children; leading them on gradually from the easiest to the more difficult, and so to the hardest words; 2. Tables of dissyllables, after the same manner: and, 3. Tables of trissyllables, with their proper divisions and accent. To which are added, one hundred and sixty lessons, in words of one, two, and three syllables; ranged in proper order, by way of praxis on the several tables. And a short Catechetical Discourse, explaining the rules for spelling, pointing, &c. recommended by many schoolmasters, under their hands, as the most practical performance of this kind: the twenty-eighth edition. To which is added, A Treatise on the Arts of Writing and Arithmetic, with a Specimen of the Hands now in Use; engraved by Mr. Bickham, senior: also six fables adorned with sculptures. By William Markham, Schoolmaster.—N. B. Such has been the approbation of this spelling-book, that upwards of 250,000 have been printed and sold of the genuine editions; and there have been several surreptitious editions besides.

8. Sixty amusing and instructive Fables, in French and English, divided into sections, and the two languages answering almost verbatim, for the greater conveniency of learners; designed principally for schools; adorned with cuts; the fourth edition, corrected and improved. Price 1s. 6d. bound.

9. Les Aventures de Telemaque, Fils d'Ulysse, par Francois de Salignac de la Mothe Fenelon, Precepteur des Enfants de France, & depuis Archeveque de Cambrai, &c. nouvelle edition, revue & corrigee avec soin; enrichie des imitations des anciens, de la vie de l'auteur & d'un petit dictionnaire mythologique & géographique; avec des figures; par D. Durand, Min. de la Savoye, & Membre de la S. R. beautifully printed in one volume in twelves, and may (very justly) be said to be the best edition ever printed of the work. Price 3s. bound.

10. Nouvelle Methode pour apprendre facilement les Langues Francoise & Angloise, par Mr. Rogissart; nouvelle edition, corrigee & augmentee d'un Essai sur la Prosodie Francoise, par D. Durand, Min. de la Savoye, & Membre de la S. R. beautiful y printed in one volume in twelves, on a fine Dutch paper. Price 2s. bound.—N. B. For the greater exactness of this edition, an English gentleman had the care of the English.

11. The Lady's Preceptor; or a Letter to a young Lady of Distinction, upon Politeness and an amiable and prudent Conduct of Life, under a great Variety of the Relations, and of those Circumstances of it, which render Instruction of most Importance to their Happiness; taken from the French of the Abbe D'Ancourt; and adapted to the religion, customs, and manners, of the English nation; by a Gentleman of Cambridge (dedicated to the Princess of Brunswick): The sixth edition; elegantly printed at Birmingham, with the apparatus and types of Mr. Baskerville. Price 1s.

* * Perhaps there is not to be found in any other tract, of the same size, so great a variety of advices conducive to the felicity of mankind, as are comprehended in the above little pamphlet; its tendency being

BOOKS printed for EDWARD JOHNSON.

being to make prudent wives and mothers, and good mistresses, &c. on which the happiness both of families and society principally depends; and being concise, is much more likely to be read, and probably therefore proportionably useful, than treatises which are more diffuse and sermonizing: in short, it may be said to contain the essence of all the books which have been written on the subjects it treats of, and therefore is a convenient remembrance to those who have read them. It is used in boarding-schools, both as preceptive and as exercises to be turned into French.

12. The Cambridge Phædrus; being a neat and correct edition of Phædri Augusti Liberti Fabularum Æsopiarum Libri Quinque; or a correct Latin edition of the Fables of Phædrus; with a new literal English translation, and a large Parsing index; by a gentleman of the University of Cambridge: second edition, Price 1s. 6d. bound.

* * This work is divided into three parts.---The first contains the original text, printed after the best editions; and those of bishop Hare and Dr. Bentley are particularly regarded. In the second is the translation, done in the manner of the construction to Lilly's Grammar; wherein the ellipses in the text are supplied, for the information and ease of the learner. The parsing index makes the third part; in which every word used in this author may be found, without the assistance or use of a dictionary; and each word (where necessary) is so accented, that young beginners may know the true pronunciation. The whole intended to be an easy guide to youth of the meanest capacities to learn their lessons with pleasure and exactness; and also a means of rendering the fatigue and trouble of the teacher more light and agreeable. ---N. B. The following character of it was given by the author of the monthly review. "This edition of Phædrus appears to be better adapted than any of those hitherto published, to answer the end of instructing young beginners in the knowledge of the Latin tongue."

13. The History of the World, translated from the Latin of Justin; with some necessary remarks by way of notes; and a prefatory discourse, concerning the advantages that ought chiefly to be had in view, in reading this or any ancient historian. To this new translation is subjoined, an exact Chronological Table of the Affairs of the World, from the creation to the birth of Christ; the Whole very useful for all readers of history, beginners more especially: by G. Turnbull, L. L. D. the second edition, Price 3s.

14. Bishop Williams's Exposition of the Church Catechism, with proofs from scripture, in five parts, and twelve sections; wherein a plain account is given of, 1. The Christian Covenant; 2. Faith; 3. Obedience; 4. Prayer; 5. The Sacraments: a new edition, being the twenty-sixth, Price 4d. stitched, or 6d. bound.

15. The Family magazine, in two parts. Part I. containing useful directions in all the branches of house-keeping and cookery; particularly shewing how to buy in the best of all sorts of provisions, as poultry ware, butcher's meat, fish, fruit, &c. with several hundred receipts in cookery, pastry, pickling, confectionary, distilling, and for destroying bugs and other vermin; with many more of excellent use, to frugal and and cleanly housewives: together with the complete family brewer, and the art of making wines, &c. Part II. containing a compendious body of physick; explaining the virtues and properties of all sorts of meats, drinks, herbs, plants, roots, seeds, &c. used either as food or physick, and succinctly treating of all the diseases and accidents incident to men, women, and children; with practical rules and directions for the preserving and restoring of health, and prolonging of life; including, under the head Temperance, an exemplification of its salutary effects, in an abstract of the life of Cornaro, the noble Venetian, who not only recovered from the ill effects of intemperance at near 40, but preserved both his intellects and health in a sound and perfect state to the age of 100: as also, how to make all kinds of balsams, salves, ointments, elixirs, cordials, diet-drinks, syrups, electuaries, powders, &c. in a method entirely new and intelligible, in which every disease is rationally and practically considered in its several stages and changes, and approved recipes inserted under every distemper in alphabetical order; being principally the common-place book of a late able physician, by which he successfully for many years regulated his practice. Selected, partly collected under his direction, digested, and prefaced, by the late Mr. Richardson, author of Clarissa, Grandison, &c. the third edition, revised, corrected, and greatly enlarged, containing receipts in cookery and physick more than in any other book yet published; in one large volume, octavo. Price 5s. bound.

BOOKS printed for EDWARD JOHNSON.

16. Thoughts upon the four last things: DEATH, JUDGMENT, HEAVEN and HELL, a Poem, in four parts; by Joseph Trapp, D.D. the third edition; to which are added, the 104th and 137th Psalms, paraphrased. Price 2s.

If due reflections upon Death, Judgment, Heaven and Hell, will not reclaim men from their vices, nothing will.

17. Dionysius Longinus on the Sublime; translated from the Greek, with notes and observations (among which are many from Dr. Pearce, Bishop of Rochester), and some account of the life, writings, and character of the author: by William Smith, D.D. Dean of Chester; the fourth edition, octavo, from a copy corrected, with emendations by the Dean. Price 4s.

“The principles of fine writing, contained in Longinus, are as necessary to be studied, to attain excellency in composition, as the Elements of Euclid are to the knowledge of mathematics; Anatomy to a physician and surgeon; and the Principles of Perspective to a painter.”

18. (Just published) Le Nouveau Testament de notre Seigneur Jesus Christ; nouvelle edition d'après le texte de M. Martin.

Of the abovesaid E. JOHNSON may be had

The MS. Practical Sermons of a Clergyman, not long since deceased. They are written in a very good hand, and are the compositions of a preacher of reputation some years in the vicinity of this city; and who had been Chaplain to one of our public ministers at a foreign court; whom to name would induce a very favourable opinion of the writer's understanding, learning and urbanity, and thereby preclude any suspicion of their non-originality.

e
A s c
c r s a r
.